

Thank You!

For being a customer of PUBLIC POWER!

As a community-owned, not-for-profit electric utility, public power exists to provide you with safe, reliable, and affordable energy. Through storms, hurricanes, natural disasters, and pandemics, we are here with you and for you — neighbors serving neighbors.

Though Public Power Week is officially celebrated the first week of October each year, we celebrate the many hometown advantages of living in a public power community year round. So, on behalf of the 70+ public power communities across North Carolina, thank you for being our customer. We are proud to be public power.
